SALINA HIGH

Many a foot has trod its halls, many a graduating class passed through its portals. But this old building will always remember 1941-42, for it was then that the "Gay Nineties Revue" packed them into the Little Theater. The Hour of Charm, inaugurated the year before, continued its work with good results. Another group went to work and presented a brand new project, a literary magazine, composed of student talent. The Student Council, headed by Charles Griffin, came to the front with its new handbook. Senior Mary Jane Lambertson became queen of the gridiron with two lovely attendants. The gain of Clark Carlile and Leslie Neywick compensated for the loss of John Young, W. T. Shoemaker, and Jack Kelly. All in all, it was a swell year for everyone

Good Luck

Well Well Well Remember Me Don't forget Me Bonnie Lee Hall

Many students, faculty members, and patrons of Salina High have helped to write the words and music of this 1942 symphony of work and play. The Trail Staff members hope that many will also find pleasure in re-living this year at Salina High through the music score which they have planned.

FROM TAPS TILL REVEILLE • WE'RE IN THE NAVY NOW • TELL IT TO THE MARINES • FLYIN' HIGH • CAPTAINS OF THE CLOUDS • THEY'VE STARTED SOMETHING.

To Salina High graduates who are devoting their time to the defense of our country and to those who will in the future, the 1942 Trail staff dedicates its annual. Having upheld the ideals and principles of Salina High School, they now go forth to lift high the faith of democracy and freedom—freedom from domination and dictators. And in the work they will undertake may they always remember the memories recorded in this log of their school life.

Dear Wilbur and Co.
It's been a swell year at Lincoln and I've enjoyed it every minute, but it seems that this year has gone so fast. I hope that you will be a senior next year and I will be a sophmore. Good Luck in Washington next year and I hope you'll make All A's. Sincerely yours, Marjorie Erickson

Dear Wilb—

Well, the school year is over. You don't know how lucky you are that you haven't graduated. It's nice to know that you have accomplished something, but it makes you sorta sad too. I'm sure glad that you have done so well in school and that you got on the National Jr. Honor Society. Keep working so you can get on the other one in your senior year. I hope that you go along way in your drawing, and that you will get to use it the way you want to. Don't forget all the swell times we've had together, walking to school together and all. Next year you'll have to go to school by yourself, but we can find other things to do. Well, here's enough for now. Here's wishing all the luck and success in the world to one swell brother.

Lots of love

LINCOLN BUILDING

LINCOLN IN RETROSPECT . . . Looking back at 1941-1942, what will you remember? Miss Cannon becoming a Mrs. . . . Miss Casady coming from Iowa to carry on . . . . Kelly snatched from his frenzied activities to become a private . . . . Bracke always on the verge of becoming one, and globe-trotting meanwhile . . . . Fun at noon in the intramurals . . . . Mr. Simpson's white rats oozing around on diets (well, almost always) . . . . cool green walls . . . . Rumpelstiltskin frolicking around on the new stage with red velvet curtains . . . . All the lads having a furious competition over the paper pick-up. Girl Reserves will long remember the Mid-Winter Conference at Emporia . . . . their Christmas Vespers program . . . . big money earned in the halls selling candy . . . and the Mother-Daughter Dinner . . . . And how can the Hi-Y boys ever forget open house at the "Y" . . . . the Father and Son banquet . . . . the big Forty-Niners' affair . . . . or the line party to "Wild Bill Hicock Rides Again" . . . . One of the highlights of the year was high water time . . . . Scott and Simpson's open water faucets gave Lincoln an extra holiday . . . . so her teachers strolled around in Washington halls, gloating maliciously over their freedom . . . . but there'll come a time . . . . Maybe.

"ON SALINA, ON SALINA"

1941-1942 at S.H.S. has had many memorable events in athletics, music, dramatics, scholarship, and other activities. Among those which we'll long remember were the junior play and the senior play, the "Gay Nineties Revue", the basketball team placing first in the Central Kansas League, and the annual junior-senior party and dance at Memorial Hall, which this year replaced the prom.

"YOU AND I"

It fascinates! Amid fuming acids, pungent odors, and burnt fingers, star chemistry studes, Jim Hurst and Beryl Cloud, and others brew many peculiar concoctions under the watchful eye of "Skippy" Sites. Familiar twosome—Ruthie and Jack leaning on a post discussing and rediscussing. Handsome letterman and femme admirer are a typical example of high school romance. Two cups flour, three eggs, etc. What have you got? We wonder, too! Ask Harold or Stanley who seem to have taken over the girl's cooking class. A favorite place of all girls to talk and get advice, Miss Andrews' office. In spite of the Dean of Girls' stern look, Marsha smiles back so it must be just a friendly little chat.

"WE THREE"

REPRESENTATIVE BOY AND GIRL

Lois Lindeman and Chuck Griffin, 1942 Representative Girl and Boy, chosen for thier comradeship, cooperation, leadership, dependability, and ideals, are also members of the National Honor Society, a recognition which denotes an active interest in all school affairs. As sophomores they were elected to the National Junior Honor Society. Serving as President of Girl Reserves and and Editor of the 1942 Trail, Lois is continuing the service begun when she entered Salina High. A special honor was awarded her this year when she was selected the D. A. R. Good Citizenship Pilgrim. Lois was Junior Girls' Glub President. She had roles in "Pinafore," "June Mad," and "Incognito."

Charles, more commonly known as "Chuck," has been Student Council President, advertising manager for the Salina High News, and Hi-Y senior vice president this year. He served as Hi-Y vice president during his sophomore year, and as president of his class during his junior year. He was a Boy's State delegate last year. Active also in athletics, Chuck received a letter in football this year, and is a regular on the track team.

Finishing their first year of actual debating in Salina High, the 26 debaters and their new coach, Clark Carlile, feel that they have had a moderately successful season. The students traveled 2,130 miles to participate in nine out of town debates. The entire team attended two tournaments by chartering a bus. In seven tournaments Salina High had at least one negative or affirmative team go through undefeated. Out of a total of 205 debates, 130 were won and 71 lost. Those trips enjoyed most were the bus trips and over night tournaments. Four sophomore girls won the only cup taken by the Salina squad this year, but under the most able leadership of Mr. Carlile the Salina High School debaters feel certain that the 1942-1943 season will be more successful.

DRAMATICS

"Frankie & Johnny Were Sweethearts" sang the can-can chorus, kicking lovely, lively legs in time to a tinny piano. And the "Gay Nineties Revue" was a wide open success.

The jinx that hovered over the junior play . . . Cookie's broken arm . . . a gorgeous set that almost wasn't built . . . a director who almost got killed during the holidays.

Rumpelstiltskin . . . First full length operetta presented solely by the Junior High came furnished with devils, a dwarf, Shakespearean ladies and gentlemen, yeomen, and music.

The beautiful "Why the Chimes Rang" gave us Christmas carols, stars in our eyes, and a prayer in our hearts.

Senior play—Germans and women mixed it up to give us shivers. A drunk, a murder, a new director did their best to make up for Kelly's entry into the army.

A memorable year in dramatics, exciting, profitable, prophetic of years to come and all because of Kelly's genius.

W E S A L U T E Y O U

When plans were started last October for the 1942 edition of The Trail, the staff members did not dream that May of 1942 would find the United States nearing its six months' milestone in World War II. The staff plans to dedicate this year's book to S. H. S. graduates who had gone into service for their country was formulated long before the attack on Pearl Harbor. Hence the task of compiling a complete and accurate list of those in the many branches of the fighting services has increased with each passing week. The list given below, we fear, is far from complete, but it does represent a genuine effort to record the graduates since 1930 who had gone itno Uncle Sam's fighting forces.—Trail Editors.

SPORTS SECTION

"SO YOU'RE THE ONE"

MOST VALUABLE ATHLETE

Each year the Salina High Athletic Board chooses one boy from the senior class to be the Most Valuable Athlete. Based on Training, Morale, Sportsmanship, Loyalty, and Record, the Most Valuable Athlete award is the highest honor paid to any athlete at Salina High. This year's choice, Don Keithline, meets almost unanimous approval. Don is a three-monogram winner both in football and in basketball. Playing halfback, Don made the all-C.K.L. football teams both as a junior and as a senior. His hard running and line-backing place him among the all-time great Maroon gridsters. Don played guard on the basketball team where he was a regular for two years. Besides being the highest scoring guard in the league his senior year, he was among the league's best rebounders. His long set shots pulled many a game out of the fire. He was an all-C.K.L. guard as a senior.

MAROONS VS. 1941 FLOODS

1. "Skipper" Phillippi convoys rescue truck on morning of the Chapman game. 2. Maroons rescue football equipment during the October flood. 3-4. Gridsters drill in street clothes during the flood. 5. Action in Chapman game transferred to St. John's field because of an inundated gridiron. 6. Flood scene of Kenwood Park showing baseball fields and track. 7. Coach Pete Phillippi talks to the team between halves of the Chapman game. 8. Don Keithline and Pat Henry take time off to pose for the camera during a football drill. 9. The Maroons watch the rising water after an unsuccessful attempt to save the football field and track from the flood. 10. Another equipment rescue scene. 11. George Sherman lets one go during a football drill. 12. Mulberry and Second streets become waterways during the October flood.

A pile-up under the basket in the Manhattan game; Charlie McCabe, No. 88, is ready for his chance at the ball.

MAROON COACHES

P. L. PHILLIPPI "Pete"—Much of the credit for the football record of the Maroons since the fall of '38 goes to this man. Coach Phillippi, commercial teacher, was an all-around athlete in college; for he played football, basketball, and baseball at Kansas Wesleyan. His Mustang gridsters took second in the league last fall, losing only one loop game and tying one. His track and "B" basketball squads have also been high ranking in league competition. EARL MORRISON—No basketball coach in the history of Salina High has ever equaled the record set up by Mr. Morrison. In his first five years at the helm, his teams captured two CKL titles and tied for one, won three regional tournaments, and won a second place in a state class AA tourney. Coach Morrison attended Kansas State College where he was on both the football and the basketball squads. Besides being head basketball coach and physical education teacher at Lincoln, he is also assistant football mentor. L. W. CHESNEY—The job of grooming the green junior high players for varsity service is handled by Mr. Chesney, "B" team coach. This man, a Washington teacher of social science, played football for Kansas Wesleyan University where he took his college work. The Little Maroons, under the direction of Mr. Chesney, have always finished the season with a good record. This year Chesney's Mustangs won one and lost one game, but had four other games scheduled that were rained out. SIDNEY YOUNGQUIST "Sid"—Coaching junior high athletics is a tough assignment. Most boys this age have nothing, at first, except the will to play. Mr. Youngquist drills them in rules and fundamentals of the sport and this helps prepare them for future varsity service. Mr. Youngquist, in his third year as mathematics teacher and junior high football and basketball coach, played football while attending Bethany College at Lindsborg. Youngquist's eleven won one game and lost two last fall in an abbreviated season washed out by the flood.

1942 BASKETBALL SEASON

Salina High's hustling cagers brightened an already shining record by emerging co-champions of the 1942 league race. The Mustangs put the bad foot forward in early season non-league play by losing to Russell, Topeka, and Wyandotte. Swinging into league competition, the Maroons downed Abilene 32 to 26 before defeating Emporia 30 to 15 in a non-league contest. Stepping back into league play, the Salina five displayed their capabilities by defeating Herington, Clay Center, and the rangy Manhattan Indians by impressive margins before losing to an inferior Chapman group, 34 to 31. The Junction City squad, made up of giants, were next on the chart for the Mustangs and they were big enough to throw a scare into all but the Maroons, who were built for maneuverability—the score, Salina 61; Junction City 33, with Charley Lear collecting 21. A championship squad will have its ups and down and Salina lost to McPherson 31 to 26, defeated Junction City 30 to 21, and then lost again to McPherson 41 to 30. The Mustangs made a brilliant finish, however, by defeating Manhattan, Herington, Clay Center, and Abilene. McPherson, the other half of the championship title, lost to Junction City, Manhattan, and Abilene. The Mustangs established another record in point getting by clipping off 599 in league play against their opponents' 412. Lear, forward, collected 131 points in league play to top individual scorers with a 9.3 average. The Maroons were eliminated by Dodge City in the first game of the regional 36 to 35.

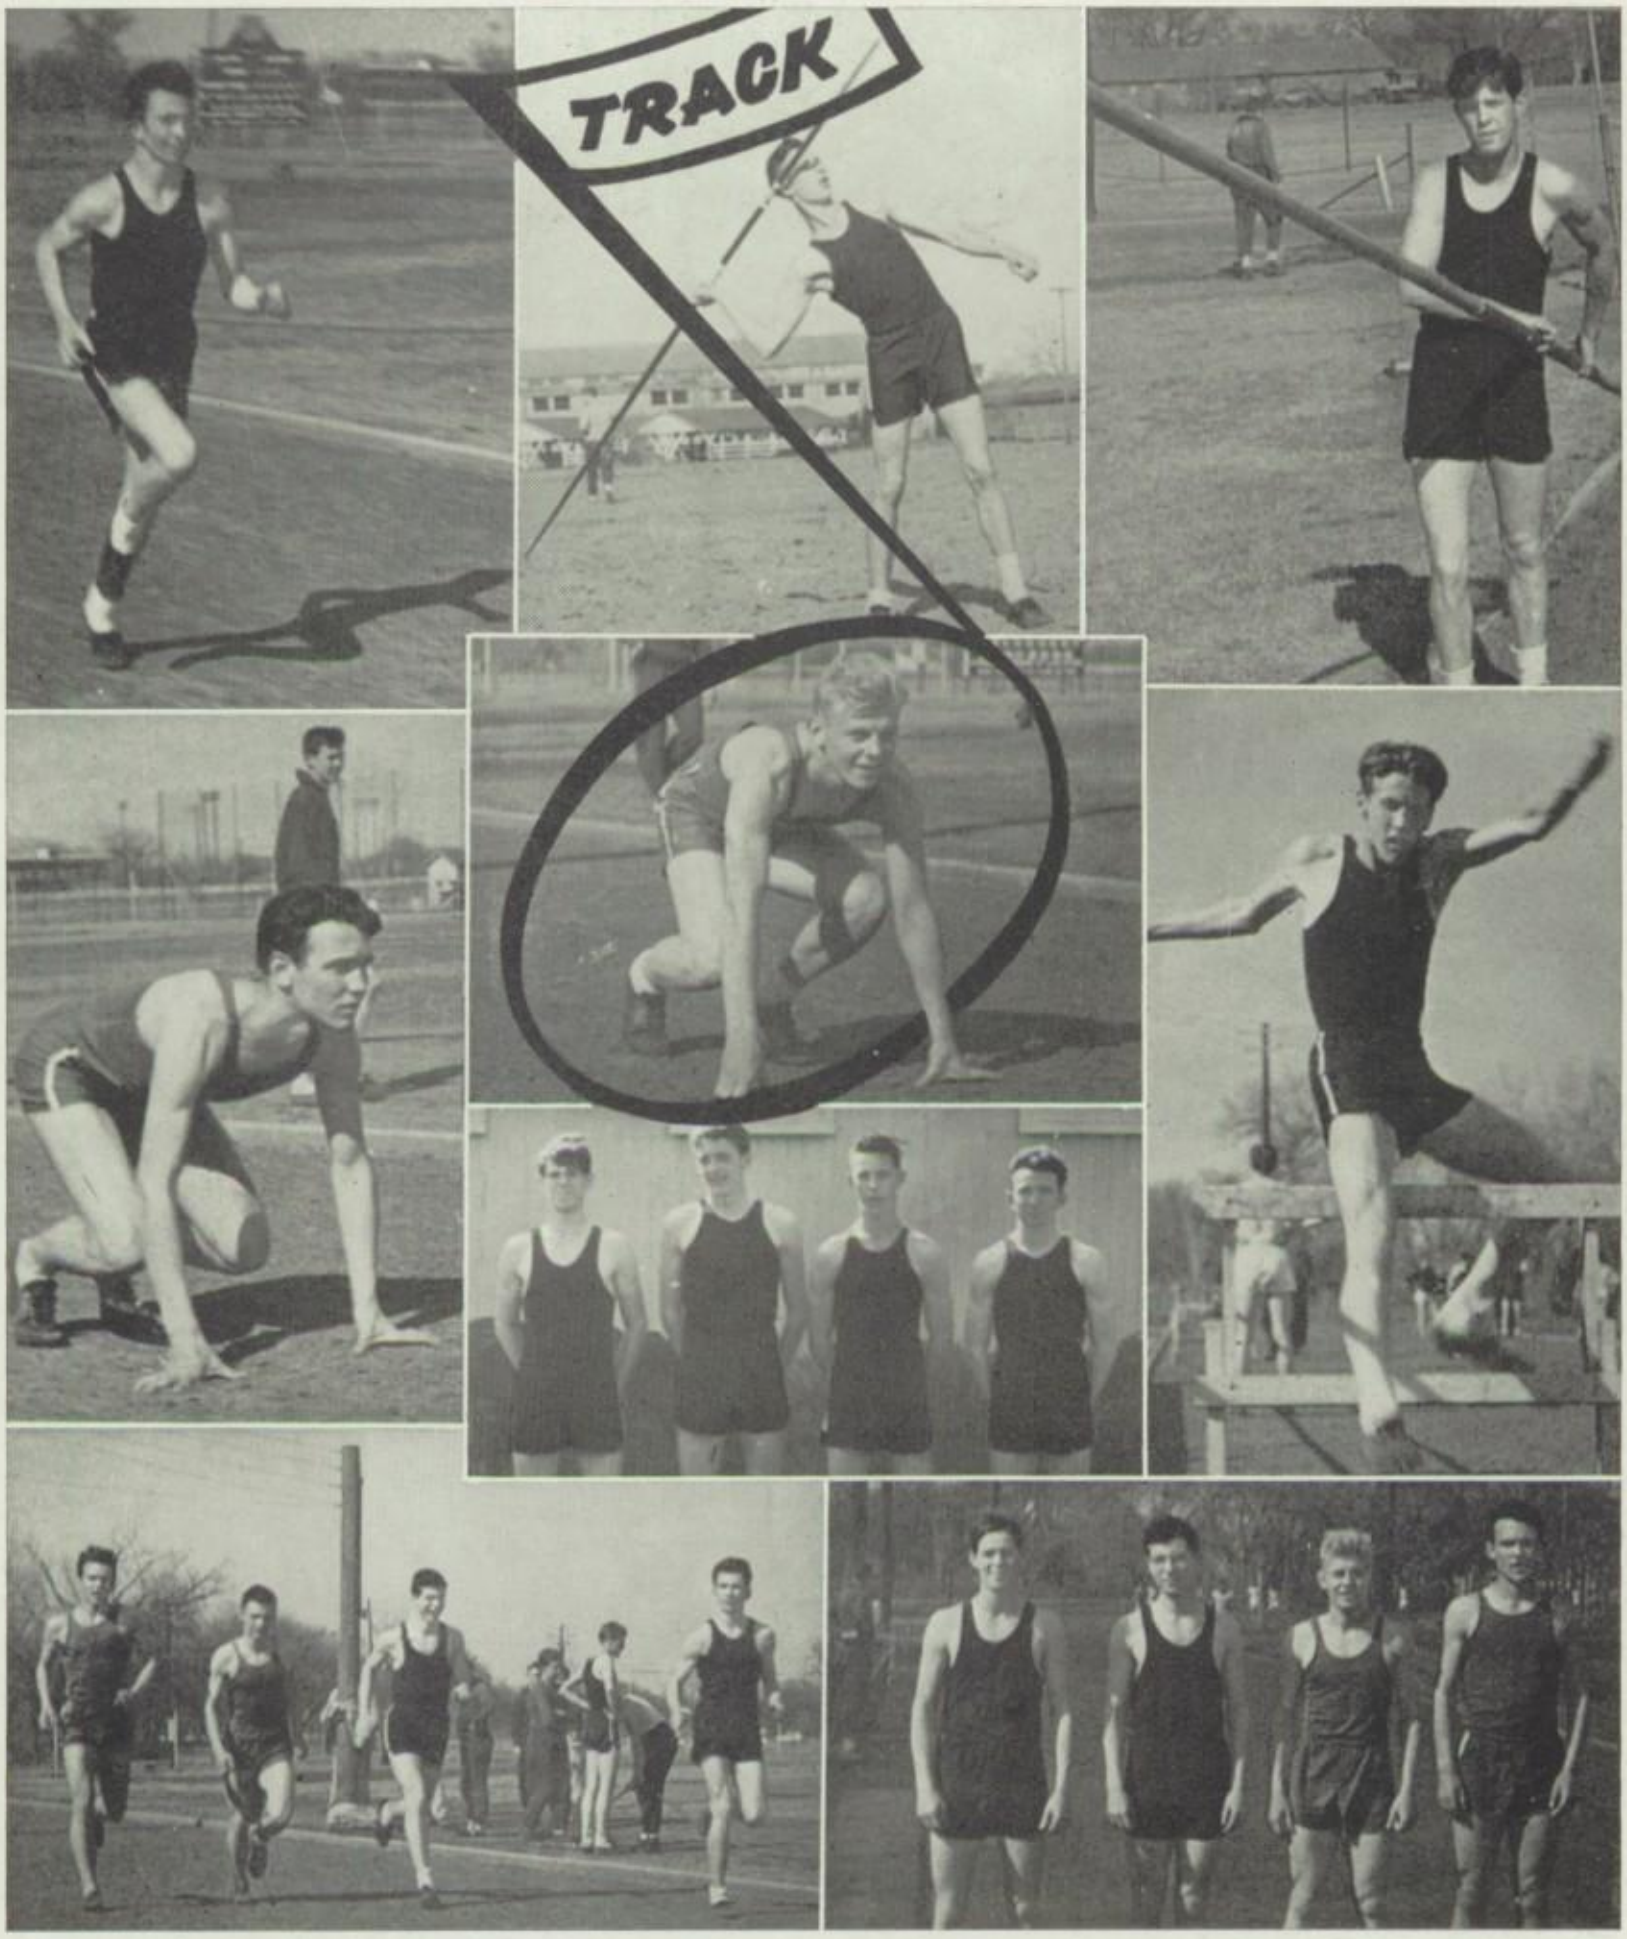
SALINA HIGH SPRING SPORTS

The Maroon thinclads opened the 1942 season without a track, their own oval being ruined by last fall's floods. Despite this handicap, Coach Phillippi's squad has made a good record. In the opening meet at Manhattan, the Indians outscored the Maroons 77 1-3 to 54 2-3. Traveling to Abilene next, the Maroons outpointed the Hands 86 to 46. Salina scored 12 points at the Hays relays to take fifth place. The Maroons won a dual from Minneapolis 81-51 and then entered four boys: Bill Noyce, Lloyd Ziegler, George Sherman, and Jack Badley, in the K.U. relays where they garnered 5 1-2 points. Other meets of the Maroon schedule included a quadrangular at Junction City, April 25, a dual at Chapman, April 28; the C. K.L. at Manhattan, May 2; the May 8 Regional; and the State Meet at Wichita May 15-16.

GOLF SEASON—The Salina High golfers, Don Cain, Bob Cain, Jim Goodwin, and Duane Rhodenbaugh, teed off last fall in the first half of C.K.L. competition and came through with a 21-point margin. Don Cain, freshman, was Salina's medalist. This spring the Maroon linksters opened their season at Newton with Gail Morrison taking Rhodenbaugh's place. Salina took fifth.

The Maroons took fifth at the Hutchinson Invitational with Don Cain as team medalist. Bob Rittgers, junior, was a member of the team for that tourney. Salina's golf schedule included two other meets in May: the C. K. L. event at Manhattan, followed by the state meet at Wichita, provided the Mustangs came through with a first in the C. K. L.

TENNIS SEASON—The Maroon netmen open the 1942 season against Manhattan April 2, winning all eight matches. Junction City and Salina met April 7 on the Salina public courts and the Mustangs won 12 of the 18 matches played. The Salina netmen defeated the McPherson Bullpups 9-0 in a dual meet April 10. Other dual matches scheduled were with Clay Center, Junction City, McPherson, and Manhattan. The C.K.L. tourney was to be held in Manhattan May 2, with the Salina team rated tops. The Regional was scheduled May 9 at Salina, and the state tournament was slated for May 15 at Wichita.



1942 Point-Winners on the Mustang Track Squad: (Upper Left) Noyce, senior letterman, placed third in 880-yard run in K.U. Relays; Ziegler, senior letterman, tied for third at K.U. in the javelin; Capt. Sherman was a consistant top-place winner in the pole vault; White, junior, Mustang runner in the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes; Griffin, senior, regular entry in the 440-yard run; Badley, senior letterman, consistently good for points in high and low hurdles; (Lower Center) Sherman, Badley, Ziegler, and Noyce were the Mustang entries at the K.U. Relays; (Lower Left) Half-mile relay team: White, Keithline, Reed, Noyce; (Lower Right) Mile-relay team: Sherman, Reed, Griffin, White.

What's in a Name---or a Title!

What's the difference between a genius and a moron? Well, don't ask me; I don't pretend to be either, but take a gander at the following book titles. The first is just another way of saying the second, but you'll admit they're just a little moronic, (or maybe the work of a genius). Anyway, take your pick. I bet you're not a genius.

Everything Noiseless on the Occidental Forepart—All Quiet on the Western Front.

A Narrative of Double Metropolises—A Tale of Two Cities.

How Grass-Like Was My Low Place Between Two Mountains—How Green Was My Valley.

For What Person the Ding-Dong Ting-a-lings —For Whom the Bell Tolls.

The Sweet Young Thing or the Striped Beast? —The Lady or the Tiger?

Frozen Water Shut in—Snow-Bound.

Wanderings of a Stubborn Four-footed Beast Travels of a Donkey.

It Will Never Occur in These Parts—It Can't Happen Here.

Monarch's Line—King's Row.

Enigma

You know what it is as well as I,
It's not alive, like us, but it's seen a lot in its day;
A lot of people, some good, some not so good.
It's watched the years go by,
Oh, many, many years, standing there in storm and rain.
Even as many as two generations
Have benefitted by it.
It came close to being destroyed once,
But they gave that up.
Everybody wanted it to be ruined,
Yet a tear would have fallen here and there
If it had been.
It must be here to stay,
For a long while anyway;
With its creaky stairs and cracked cement,
'Cause nobody REALLY wants to see it go—
That old Washington building.

The Quality Line

It Has Occurred To Me

Since the Dark Ages of the Roosevelt building, I have been haunted by people who for weeks and weeks look dubiously at me, and then one day when all is calm, they sidle cautiously up to me and whisper, "Just what nationality are you, anyway?" And when I tell them my prepared answer, they turn disappointedly away.

But now it can be told: my mother was a beautiful South Sea Islander, and my father a visiting fireman.

Sometime in awful past I must have been Cleopatra, or at least one of the Borgias. Because, I'm the type who steps on spiders and pinches little babies. The first baby I ever pinched was my little brother, when he was one and I was six. My mother was outside hanging clothes, and he was in his little cradle. And I sneaked up behind him —with a water pistol for protection against intruders—and pinched him.

The last baby I pinched was a cute little thing of about six years. She kicked me from behind, I pinched her from in front and she spit in my eye. I yelped blindly and she screamed. Her big brother dashed from the house and ran toward us, gathering rocks as he came. My big brother did the same. Stones and names flew, windows crashed. My sister joined my side to battle wildly against the girl's mother, who was leaning from her kitchen window, exhorting her side. Our dining room window popped open and my mother came out feet first, and immediately the other mother ran out to do personal affront. A stray neighbor or two joined us, and our two family dogs, usually the best of friends, began to fight savagely, attacking any and everyone.

I don't know quite what ever happened to the battle after that . . . the little girl and I got bored and went into the back yard to make mud pies.

I know what you're thinking: no such battle could ever occur in real life. But this one did. It had been simmering for years, and after that it boiled for several more. But the little girl and I remained the best of friends.—D. A. '42

The Lincoln vocal music groups totalling nearly 100 voices have participated in many programs at school and for community affairs. They sang with the Washington chorus in the November Memorial Hall concert for the State Teachers Association. "Rumpelstiltskin" was their own operetta produced in October. The girls from the group presented the Girl Reserves Christmas vesper. Other special programs in which this group had a part, in addition to frequent assembly appearances, were the "Why the Chimes Rang" community Christmas feature, the April 21 annual spring concert, and the Lindsborg district music festival, Members in the group pictured on page 54 include—

It Happened To Us

Dearest Tootsie,

Well, it's just about all over. These six years of high school have really flashed by How well we remember those good ole days. Remember when Shirley Hagler had a crush on Jay Hines? That was when Joan Goffee was still living here. By the way, remember the second hour English class? Miss Litowich was really swell, wasn't she? Shank and Mowery were rivals for Barney then and Don Price had eyes for Barbara Baldwin only. Those were the days at Roosevelt.

Then we were freshmen and listened to Bracke's songs. Oh yes, Wee Fincher skipped school for the first time and got caught. That was the time when Pat Winn and Claude Paxton had it bad. Mildred Hansen was here and my, did the hearts ever flutter. Mary Kay Helfrick and George Harvey were that way too. My, my—what we don't remember.

Sophomore year came next and so did Skeeter Curtis. That was Kelly's first year, too. The speech class just overflowed with students. Dean Ayers impersonated Mr. Bracke in freshman assembly and what didn't happen then. Everybody was thrilled to death about "Tiger House." Gee, wasn't it just wonderful. Remember the leap year dance. More fun.

Then we were juniors. My, but we felt grown up. Shirley Gross arrived and Cory thought he had found his true love. Remember her birthday party? Wonderful to have everything so formal. Wee Fincher got the lead in "June Mad" and everyone just had to see it And then prom—wasn't it just wonderful to march in and have so many people watching us.

Gee but time does fly. Now we are seniors. Remember Chocky Fuerst and the farewell party for her. Then Kelly was drafted and everyone was so sad and classes were cut just to see him off—I cried too. Then Bracke also left. Why did we have to have a war anyway. Then something happened to the friendship of Banker and Heller. Wonder what? Then we had the junior-senior party and boy, did we have fun. Then almost before we knew it, the year was over. The Baccalaureate services and Class Day and then Commencement and so another class of Salina Hi has taken its final curtain call.

Love,

—Jere.

Lots of luck to a swell guy and former classmate.
I hope you're some day successful.
Yours truly
James Burke

Best wishes to an old schoolmate.
Dont forget the screwy
Latin class we had this year or the fun we had a long time ago at South
Park – those school picnics!

Dear Wilber:

Well Chum I promised I'd write in here but I really can't think of much to say. The year has finally come to an end but I wish it were just starting.

I hope your future years will be full of Love, Health and Happiness.

Love,
"Elaine"
